ACT 2 INT. Hospital Ward &amp; VR World
The sound of a pumpkin carriage The patient in the ward sits shakily with a smile on his face. The patient is so excited that he cannot stop dancing on his chair. The patient is guided by his mind, and he walks around the ward. After a while, the patient let out a long sigh. He picks up	On the screen, the pumpkin carriage takes the patient to the palace. When the patient enters the palace he sees a little girl's bedroom instead of a prince and a court ball. The patient walks into the room and dances around in amazement. He gently rattles the wind chimes by the window and they make a pleasant sound. The sound of a wind chime He touches the octave on the windowsill, and the ballet girl in it begins to dance in place. And then he sits down on the bed in his room and stays there for a long time. He looks sad as hell.

After a while, the patient suddenly remembers something and he sits up sharply from the bed. The patient sees the sight before him and stands up to try to touch those virtual bubbles. The sound of the bubbles	When the screen lights up again, the patient is already sitting in a crystal-clear bubble. When the patient touches his bubble, it bursts.

The patient looks terrified when the bubble bursts. He stands and stares for a while. When the patient sees the pills, he freaks out. He dodges these drugs very hard. The doctor returns to the ward and is exceptionally worried to see the patient who is behaving strangely in the real world. Gradually, the doctor falls into empathy and begins to resist following the patient's behavior. The patient eventually collapses into a hospital bed, exhausted.	Some pills surrounding the patient appear on the screen. Behind them, there is a video of cancer cells projected on a ring screen. The pills keep attacking the patient, while the cells on the screen gradually disappear. In the end, the screen turns white.
The patient in the ward is terrified, he clutches himself and wails. The doctor is stunned as she witnesses what is on the screen and the reflection of the patient in the ward.	Many cancer cells appear on the screen, and after a while, they form the appearance of the patient's daughter.
The patient pets the toy rabbit on his bed and the screen shows that he is in the bedroom of the girl in Cinderella's world, where he is stroking an urn. The clock strikes The Patient “Goodbye forever, my little sweetie.” The patient sits quietly in a chair in the ward. He looks relieved. The sound of a pumpkin carriage

The Doctor

"Are you feeling better?"

The patient replies in a little girl's tone of voice.

The Patient

"Yes Doctor. I have gone home."

The Doctor

"Do you still think you're Cinderella?"

The doctor breaks down and pats the patient on both shoulders.

The Doctor

"Sir, I understand your feelings very well. But please wake up. It has been 54 days since your daughter passed away. Do you understand what I am saying? You're not going to die and you're not Cinderella."

The patient suddenly pulls out of himself and looks at the doctor solemnly.

The Patient

"Yes, I am not Cinderella. But I have been in my own hospice care since the day my daughter died."

The patient smiles bitterly as he holds the rabbit.

The Patient

"Goodbye, Cinderella."
